

August Job Postings 2019-2020 Comparison

October 2020

Job Demand during COVID-19

The COVID-19 pandemic has caused unprecedented changes in the job market. Unemployment rates spiked to record highs as businesses shut down to prevent the spread. However, even during the economic uncertainty, some employers posted job ads. As workforce needs change across the state, it is important to know which occupations and industries are in demand to help displaced workers find new career paths.

In August of 2020, there were a total of 51,913 online job postings, compared to 45,860 in August 2019, representing a 13 percent increase. While job postings increased, so have the number of unemployed Missourians. In August 2020, there were 4.1 unemployed Missourians for every job posting. In August 2019, there were only 2.2 unemployed people for every posting. March and April of 2020 showed decreases in job postings compared to 2019, with over the year increases starting to occur in June.
